

AI-driven matching. Seamless hiring.

Through tech-focused AI, Dice matches your job postings with the most engaged and relevant technology professionals based on each role's unique requirements. Interested candidates have the tools to learn about your roles, as well as your employer brand, and can easily apply in just a few clicks with their information already stored on Dice.

Specialized access

Reach tech talent where they actually look. 39% of our active tech professionals aren't searching on generalist job sites – they're here, ready for their next role.

Quality applicants

Transform your applicant pool into a qualified pipeline. With our AI powered tools, 71% of applicants are high quality matches, so you can connect with candidates who fit your requirements.

Speed to hire

Time matters in tech hiring. 97% of companies receive qualified applicants within 24 hours of posting on Dice. Post today, start screening tomorrow.

"If you're looking for a tech job or pretty much any job, you should visit Dice. Also, if you're a recruiter looking for good candidates, you must have [a] Dice subscription."

How we amplify your jobs

With any job posting, your roles are dynamically promoted to tech professionals beyond the Dice site. We personalize job recommendations to the right candidates at the right time on the channels where they're most active.
